Dear Parents and Carers,

I am writing to inform you that we have received the final draft of the OFSTED report following our inspection in June.

OFSTED inspect schools to provide information to parents, to promote improvement and to hold schools to account for the public money they receive.

A school judged to be good at its last inspection normally receives a short inspection. The purpose of a short inspection is to determine whether the school continues to provide a good standard of education and whether safeguarding is effective.

During the day the inspector looked at the school's self-evaluation and analysed the pupils' progress and attainment. He talked to the headteacher, governors, staff, and pupils and considered your views as a parent. The inspector spent most of his time observing a wide range of lessons and looking at the quality of teaching in the school, and its impact on learning and progress. He also looked at the personal development and welfare of pupils at the school, the promotion of spiritual, moral, social and cultural development; and how well the school is led and managed.

The final report comes in the form of a letter addressed to the headteacher.

The staff at St Mark's work incredibly hard and this is evidenced in the report. I want to thank them for their dedication and determination in providing the excellent outcomes for our pupils in all areas of school life. The children showed that they are very proud of their school, that they feel safe and enjoy coming to school. I would also like to thank you for your positive feedback on the day of the inspection about the improvements to the school.

Thank you for your continued support.

Regards,

Sophie Liardet
